

New Announcements

Opportunities

Hourly Job Announcement

Looking for 3 - 4 students. The schools are in Detroit and Dearborn, so having a car would be necessary, and the interviews will be during school hours.

Dr. Christy Byrd and Dr. Dorinda Carter Andrews are seeking undergraduate and graduate research assistants for a qualitative research project. We will be interviewing high school students in Detroit and one or two other cities about their perceptions of their school's racial climate. We will also be training a small group of high school students to interview their peers. The high school researchers will analyze their interviews and present their findings at a research symposium. Interviews will begin in March and continue through the summer.

Individuals are needed to:

- Schedule interviews and trainings
- Conduct focus group and individual interviews with high school students (grad students only)
- Transcribe interviews
- Train high school students
- Conduct observations during student training
- Organize high school student research symposium

Some experience preferred but not required. Training will be provided. This is a great opportunity to mentor high school students and develop qualitative research skills.

If interested, please send your CV or resume to cmburd@msu.edu along with a description of what roles you are interested in and your qualifications/previous experience. Students will be paid $20/hr for conducting interviews, training high school students to be researchers, and taking fieldnotes during student training. Students will be paid $40/hr per audio hour to transcribe interviews.

Reminders

Events & Opportunities

BGSA 9th Annual Research Symposium

Eli Broad Business College Rms 103/104

Saturday, February 23, 2013 from 9:30am - 4:00pm

Our theme this year is "Creating Unity Through Diversity: Moving Academia Forward Through Interdisciplinary Research"

The research symposium is a forum for graduate students to present past, present and future research. If you have a research project, paper, proposal or dissertation work, we want to hear about it and we invite you to share the work that you have done with the MSU community.

Registration Details:

Free! for Presenters

$5 for BGSA members and Undergraduates

$10 for BGSA non-members and the general public

For more information contact Ashley Hannah, hannahas@msu.edu

Planning for a Sustainable Career: From Graduate Student to Professional

Lincoln Room, Kellogg Center

March 16, 2013 at 8:45am - 3:30pm

Doctoral programs are the first stage in a long professional career; preparing for that career requires not just disciplinary training, but the development of a range of skills necessary to adapt to professional and personal changes. This workshop will help you identify those skills and to learn how and where to acquire them. This workshop is aimed at post docs and at doctoral students at all levels of their programs, from those just beginning their coursework, to those starting on their job searches and making the transition from graduate school to a new career.

Click here for more information. Capacity is 120. Directions for Registering.

Stay Connected

"Education is not preparation for life; education is life itself."

- John Dewey