

Opportunities

Postdoctoral Fellowship

Ohio State University

Deadline: February 15, 2013

The Division of Social and Behavioral Sciences Diversity Postdoctoral Fellowship Program in the College of Arts and Sciences at The Ohio State University supports promising scholars who are committed to diversity in the academy and to prepare those scholars to enter tenure track faculty positions. They are particularly interested in receiving applications from individuals who are members of groups that historically have been underrepresented in the American professoriate.

For more information on how to apply, visit this link.

The Julian Samora Endowment Scholarship

For 2013-2014

Deadline: February 15, 2013

The Julian Samora Research Institute (JSRI) is proud to provide the opportunity to students to apply for the Julian Samora Endowment Scholarship in AY 2013-2014. Named in honor of Dr. Julian Samora, the scholarship supports undergraduate and graduate students engaged in scholarly activities focusing on Latino/as in Midwestern communities. The Julian Samora Scholarship Committee will review applications and select the awardees. Announcement of the recipients will be made in March, 2013.

Click here for more information.

The MasterCard Foundation Program Scholars Program

Fall 2013 Application Process

The MasterCard Foundation has partnered with Michigan State University to provide full tuition scholarships to undergraduate and masters students from Sub-Saharan Africa. Students who have demonstrated academic talent, are economically disadvantaged and have a personal commitment to give back to their countries are invited to apply for these scholarships. Through financial, academic, social and post-graduation support. The Scholars Program will ensure that young people are equipped with the skills and competencies needed to spur economic growth and social development in their respective countries of origin. For more information on how to apply, click here.

Events

Planning for a Sustainable Career: From Graduate Student to Professional

Lincoln Room, Kellogg Center

March 16, 2013 at 8:45am - 3:30pm

Doctoral programs are the first stage in a long professional career; preparing for that career requires not just disciplinary training, but the development of a range of skills necessary to adapt to professional and personal changes. This workshop will help you identify those skills and to learn how and where to acquire them. This workshop is aimed at post docs and at doctoral students at all levels of their programs, from those just beginning their coursework, to those starting on their job searches and making the transition from graduate school to a new career.

Click here for more information. Capacity is 120. Directions for Registering.

Stay Connected

"Education is the most powerful weapon, which you can use to change the world."

- Nelson Mandela