Facilitating Classroom Conversations about Sexual Assault: Trauma-Informed Approach

Dr. Carrie Moylan
Dr. Carrie Moylan is an Assistant Professor in the School of Social Work and a member of the Research Consortium on Gender Based Violence.

-Want helpful guidelines for facilitating discussions without distressing students?

-Have questions about how to support your students in our current climate?

-Interested in learning more about sexual assault on college campuses?

Come join us:

Date: Friday, February 16, 2018
Time: 11:00AM-12:30PM
Location: C302/304 Snyder Hall

Dr. Carrie Moylan is an Assistant Professor in the School of Social Work and a member of the Research Consortium on Gender Based Violence. She brings over 18 years of experience and expertise related to sexual and intimate partner violence, including seven years as a counselor and advocate for survivors and as a sexual violence prevention educator. Her current research focuses on campus sexual assault policies and responses, and she has also researched sexual harassment in educational internships, coordinated community responses to sexual assault, and children who have witnessed domestic violence. Her research has been published in Trauma, Violence & Abuse, Journal of Interpersonal Violence, Violence Against Women, Affilia, Journal of American College Health, Social Service Review, and more.