What is an Open Space dialogue?
It is a self-organizing practice of inner discipline and collective activity which releases the inherent creativity and leadership in people. By inviting people to take responsibility for what they care about, Open Space establishes a marketplace of inquiry, reflection and learning, bringing out the best in both individuals and the whole.

If you are a graduate student with concerns, frustrations and ideas about issues of diversity that affect graduate students at Michigan State, please join us for an Open Space meeting. We will have a time of dialogue and discussion that will produce recommendations for creating positive culture change at Michigan State University.

Feb 10th from 10am-2pm
in 133D Erickson Hall
