

Residential College in the Arts and Humanities Language Fellowship Program Call for Applications 2018-2019

The Residential College in the Arts and Humanities (RCAH), in collaboration with the Graduate School at Michigan State University (MSU), announces a language fellowship program in undergraduate teaching and learning for MSU graduate students. The RCAH is an interdisciplinary college with a strong commitment to social justice, civic engagement, the visual and performing arts, and world languages and cultures. A description of the program and information of the application process are detailed below.

Program Description

The RCAH provides its undergraduate students with opportunities to apply and strengthen their knowledge of world languages and cultures through a project-based Cultures and Languages Across the Curriculum (CLAC) program. Graduate students selected for this fellowship participate in different components of the CLAC Program; this includes:

- Facilitating weekly immersion, project-based sessions in a world language for all levels of language learners
- Collaborating with RCAH faculty to be a guest speaker in an RCAH course
- Participating in and lead weekly meetings with other RCAH language fellowship recipients, faculty, and staff
- Designing and implementing research projects in areas such as needs assessment, materials development, instructional delivery, and program evaluation
- Creating and coordinating CLAC events for RCAH students and the wider community

Eligibility

Eligible graduate students must be enrolled full-time in any MSU college, be in good academic standing, and be making progress toward a terminal degree in their field. Additionally, fellows have (near) native fluency in any language other than English. Each fellow receives a stipend of $8000 to help support CLAC research project expenses, professional development workshops, and/or travel to professional conferences.

For further information or questions, please see the RCAH website (<http://rcah.msu.edu>) or contact Professor India Plough, RCAH, 362 Bogue Street, Snyder C210 or by email at ploughi@msu.edu.

Application

Applications must include the following items:

1. A completed form (<https://goo.gl/forms/ICOHZb27VsQG5WBt2>) that includes
  - the applicant's information;
  - a curriculum vitae to be uploaded as a Word or PDF document; and
  - an essay (maximum 800 words) that addresses reasons for applying, your professional goals and how participation will help you achieve those goals, to be uploaded as a Word or PDF document.
2. A Recommendation Form (see attached) to be completed by the applicant's graduate advisor or department chair and sent under separate cover to Professor India Plough (ploughi@msu.edu)

Complete applications are due April 25, 2018
