Well-Being Resources at MSU for Graduate Students

Physical Well-Being

Recreational Sports and Fitness Services. http://recsports.msu.edu/index.php. Rec Sports’ mission is to promote each participant’s learning experience by engaging the university community in healthy lifestyles through sport, fitness, and recreational opportunities. You can join an intramural team, participate in a virtual or in-person exercise class, or work out in one of our on-campus facilities.

Virtual Exercise Program: Do you need help setting up an exercise routine for yourself? Exercise promotes optimal health and wellness and is integral in the prevention and treatment of various physical and mental health conditions. If you don’t know where to begin, our virtual exercise prescription (VEP) will design a specific exercise routine just for you! With an exercise prescription, you can get the guidance and coaching you need to start a safe and effective exercise routine! Fill out this Online Registration Form to help the VEP staff understand your goals, motivation to exercise, your health history, and assess your current fitness levels. They will then reach out to set up a free one-on-one session to create a personalized plan for you. Check the website for more details: https://healthpromotion.msu.edu/fitness/index.html.

Virtual THRIVE! https://healthpromotion.msu.edu/fitness/index.html. This 12-week virtual program provides you with motivation, accountability, and support, as well as opportunities to thrive and obtain a higher level of personal health through a variety of fitness and wellness experiences. You can expect to meet virtually with a friendly and engaged professional wellness coach who will help you reflect on your current fitness and wellness habits. They will help guide you in creating a plan to make changes and set SMART goals so that you can work towards becoming the best version of you! The Virtual THRIVE! program includes:

- Virtual Fitness Assessments (Pre and Post)
- Virtual Wellness Coaching
- Weekly Fitness & Wellness Challenges and E-mail Check-Ins
- Virtual Weekly Group Workouts with a Certified Personal Trainer
- Virtual Nutrition Session: Eating Well for Mind, Body & Soul

THRIVE runs in the Fall and Spring Semesters and costs $35 (limited number of subsidized spots for graduate students. Contact Meg Moore at akehimeg@msu.edu for more details).

Nutrition Services. The Nutrition Program for students at MSU is focused on supporting all people within our campus community to achieve eating competence. The work we do in nutrition counseling sessions, outreach programming, and health communication promotes a non-diet approach using the eating competence model and a weight-inclusive approach to support health. The Nutrition Program provides services guided by a belief that students are capable of making wise, well-informed decisions about nutrition when provided the information, education, and support necessary to do so. https://healthpromotion.msu.edu/nutrition/.

MSU Student Food Bank. The MSU Student Food Bank was founded to help students who are dealing with food insecurity. Food insecurity refers to having limited food availability with a reduction in the... quality or variety of food intake, that often results in disrupted eating patterns. A lack of food security can be a considerable obstacle to academic success. Currently, the Food Bank is open by appointment and you can pick up food as often as once a week. Check here for details on how to set up an appointment: https://foodbank.msu.edu/distribution/index.html.

Emotional and Mental Health

Emotional/Mental Resources through CAPS

MSU Counseling & Psychiatric Services (CAPS) is the place on campus for students seeking help for a wide range of concerns, including: depression, anxiety, stress management, homesickness, adjustment or acculturation, relationships, gender and sexual orientation (LGBTQ) issues, substance abuse, traumatic experiences, eating or body image concerns, and other personal mental health concerns. CAPS provides short-term individual therapy as well as a variety of support groups, some specifically for graduate students. CAPS also provides a referral service to help students find mental health providers in the community. If you are in crisis, calling CAPS’ main number any time 24/7 will immediately connect you to a crisis counselor: 517-355-8270. You can learn more about the services offered at CAPS and how to access them here: https://caps.msu.edu.

CAPS Connect is a brief consultation program that is confidential, completely free, and available to all enrolled MSU students. Join us virtually during the scheduled times - sign up in advance to chat with a CAPS Counselor! CAPS Connect provides a place to talk about concerns. You can have someone listen to you and offer support, or you may prefer to receive expert suggestions about solutions and resources. https://caps.msu.edu/services/CAPSConnect.html

Support Groups at CAPS for Graduate Students (Virtual). The following groups are available just for grad students. Click here to learn more about when the groups are offered and how to get started: https://caps.msu.edu/services/groups/index.html.

- ACT: Make Your Experience ACT (Acceptance & Commitment Therapy)
  Many grad students experience anxiety or depression. This group aims to help grad students learn mindfulness skills, connect to their values, and strengthen psychological flexibility in their relationship with themselves and others. The group offers a mixture of support, experiential learning, and action-oriented work. Virtual and in person options.

- Gender Identity and Attractionality (GIAA)
  This support group for graduate students addresses life and relational issues related to romantic and sexual attraction, sexual orientation and gender identity, particularly for LGBTQ+ (including questioning) students. Topics are based on student interests and could include exploring identity and identity development, trust and connections, dealing with heterosexism, cissexism, internalized homophobia and/or transphobia, dating and dating technology, attraction and romance, family dynamics, faith and identity, balancing academics with life, and intersectional identities. Virtual meeting.

- Graduate Student Support Group
  This is a supportive space where graduate students can gather, share and empower one another through shared experiences. Themes for this group explore key stressors as they relate to graduate studies, purpose, sense of belonging, “creative differences” with your advisor, juggling multiple roles and responsibilities, challenges with completing dissertation or thesis and impacts related to diet, sleep and emotional well-being. Whatever your concerns, we can listen, offer support or help you come up with strategies to make the most of your time in grad school. Virtual meeting.

- Other CAPS groups (some virtual and some in person) that are open to graduate students for Fall 2021 include:
  - Academic Stress Reduction for A/APIDA Women
  - African American Women’s Group
  - Beyond the Binary (support for those who exploring or identify as transgender, gender-fluid, non-binary or gender-nonconforming)
  - Bipolar Support Group (connecting with other students who have a bipolar diagnosis)
  - Body Image and Eating Concerns Support Group
  - Brave Space (all-gender support group to help you understand who you are in relation to others and practice meaningful interpersonal changes)
  - Combating Anxiety
  - Creatively Constrained: ADHD Support, Skills, and Resources
  - DBT Group (learning to apply Dialectic Behavior Therapy skills to increase your ability to operate effectively in your environment)
  - Empower U (support for LGBTQIA+ students of color in particular)
  - Grief Recovery
  - International Students Support Group
  - Living with Chronic Illness
  - Men Need to Talk Too (a safe non-judgmental space — particularly for students who identify as male — to explore their thoughts and emotions)
  - Mental Health Mondays (rotating topics which could include mindfulness, self-acceptance, motivation improvement, anxiety management, organizational skills, etc.)
  - Mindfulness-Based Anxiety Management
  - Thinking of Change: Substance Use Workshop
  - Understanding Self and Others (understanding and working on your own communication and interaction style)

Online resources at CAPS

Emotional/Mental Resources through Health4U

Health4U is focused on helping MSU faculty, staff, graduate assistants, and retirees explore the fundamentals of a health-promoting lifestyle. We provide access to high quality, evidence informed, and culturally conscious health education and support. We offer health and wellness courses, coaching services and departmental services. On our website you will also find articles, resources, and recipes published by Health4U staff: https://health4u.msu.edu.

Employee Assistance Program (EAP). The Mission of the MSU Employee Assistance Program is to support and enhance the emotional health of the campus community. EAP provides emotional assistance to employees and their families as they attempt to work through life changes, expected and unexpected events, chronic physical and emotional health issues, and work/life balance concerns. The EAP offers six free sessions of counseling for graduate students who are benefits-eligible (i.e. those funded by assistantships). https://eap.msu.edu.

Emotional Wellness Resources https://health4u.msu.edu/wellness

Emotional Wellness courses/workshops: https://health4u.msu.edu/wellness/courses

Emotional Wellness Coaching offered by Health4U. https://health4u.msu.edu/wellness. The focus of these free coaching sessions is to help you move toward your desired goal, such as:

- Feeling less stressed out
- Getting motivated and/or organized
- Increasing your focus
- Learning more about yourself and others around you
- Dealing with writer's block
- Exploring career options

Other Resources for Emotional/Mental Health

Wellness Coaching. Free individual and group wellness coaching available to all MSU students through the Health Promotion Office. Wellness coaching is a positive, proactive and supportive process that explores your life in meaningful ways, helping you to feel better about yourself and enhance your well-being. A wellness coach recognizes that you are the expert in your own life and in that role, they support you in creating lifestyle changes aligned with your personal goals and values. A wellness coach works with you in a collaborative process to enhance your strengths and turn your challenges into victories, establishing appropriate action plans, offering support when you struggle, and celebrating when you succeed. During your sessions your coach will support you in:

- Identifying one or more priority areas that you would like to change.
- Recognizing the benefits of creating new, positive habits.
- Identifying barriers to performing at your best and come up with manageable solutions.
- Creating an action plan that incorporates realistic strategies and goals
- Successfully implementing your plan by providing accountability, problem-solving strategies, skill-building, and referral to other campus resources if needed.

KORU Mindfulness Meditation Classes. In four weeks, you will learn research-validated methods to manage your stress and work more mindfully with thoughts and emotions. You will attend four online 75-minute classes that include small group discussions. You will also complete 10 minutes of daily practice and some light reading. Contact Dr. Debra Duxbury MD PhD, Certified Koru Mindfulness Teacher, at mindfulness@msu.edu with questions about when the next class will be offered and how to register.

Developing Resilience. This resource is a Massive Online Open Course (MOOC) for the Postdoc Academy, an NIH-funded project with folks from MSU, Boston Univ, Univ of WI-Madison, and Northwestern. The MOOC is largely for postdocs, however, in past offerings we know senior graduate students and staff are also taking it. From evaluations of participants, it is quite popular and people have found it very helpful. Intellectual Well-Being

Updated 5-20-21
Dissertation Support Groups. The Dissertation Support Group is a 6-week group for graduate students who would like some extra support maintaining motivation and/or making effective progress in the writing of their dissertation. This group is open only to students who are actively working on and writing their dissertation. The group utilizes a short-term, solution-focused model to help manage the anxiety and stress that often prohibit effective writing. Please note that this group does not focus on the technical aspects of writing, and there will be no review of written work in this group. The group provides participants with a supportive, structured environment that helps to mitigate the sense of isolation and frustration that often accompany the dissertation writing process and to promote the accountability, risk-taking and creativity necessary to complete a terminal degree. A weekly discussion topic will also provide group members with an opportunity to discuss some of the most common barriers to effective writing such as procrastination, time management, stress/burnout, and writer’s block. Contact Dr. Meg Moore for more information: akehimeg@msu.edu.

Graduate School Write-ins. Graduate School Write-Ins are co-sponsored by the Graduate School and The Writing Center @ MSU. The write-ins are hosted and facilitated to provide writers with an opportunity to write in a shared writing space where other writers are present, and a writing center consultant/staff member is present to provide consultations for writers who would like to have a consultation appointment during the session. Along with this, the write-ins provide an opportunity for facilitators to promote and share information about upcoming events hosted by the Graduate School, Writing Center, and other campus partners such as the University Outreach and Engagement Office and to provide resources and information that can be used to form graduate writing groups, have writing center appointments or attend workshops (provided by the Graduate School) that cater to graduate students based on goals they may share during the write in. Write-ins are typically held once a month on Fridays from 9:00am-1:00pm. Check the graduate school calendar for the next session: https://grad.msu.edu/calendar.

Teaching Communities and Fellowships: The Graduate School collaborates with academic units to offer several year-long funded fellowship programs for people interested in participating in communities of practice with other graduate students. While in each of these fellowship programs, graduate students undertake year-long inquiry projects related to student learning in their disciplinary contexts. https://grad.msu.edu/teaching-communities-and-fellowships.

The Center for the Integration of Research, Teaching, and Learning (CIRTL) (cirtl.net) is a network of 21 universities across the United States advancing STEM undergraduate education by helping prepare future STEM faculty in the use and assessment of evidence-based instruction. CIRTL runs online courses, workshops, events, and more to teach STEM grad students and postdocs effective, inclusive, evidence-based approaches to teaching and learning.

Fall CIRTL Network Programming:
- Online Course: The College Classroom. Learn teaching and learning fundamentals in this 12-week course designed for STEM/SBE grad students and postdocs new to teaching. Cap: 30. Registration opens Monday, August 16.
- MOOC: An Introduction to Evidence-Based Undergraduate STEM Teaching. 8-week asynchronous course running September 27 through November 21. Learn about STEM teaching at your own pace through online video modules and discussion boards in this 8-week MOOC developed by CIRTL Network faculty. No cap. Registration opens Friday, August 27.
- Various Workshops
- Event Series: Exploring Careers in Teaching at a Community College (event series). Tuesdays, October 5, November 2, and December 7
Center for Statistical Training and Consulting (CSTAT). Did you know that MSU graduate students can receive free statistical support for their dissertation research? CSTAT collaborates on research projects and provides statistical support services to MSU affiliated faculty, staff, and graduate students, and off-campus clients. CSTAT also offers training and education in data management, statistical methods, and responsible conduct of research. For example, we:

- provide expertise and guidance on study design, statistical methods, interpretation of results, and conduct statistical analyses
- participate in grant proposal applications with design and methods considerations and sample size determination
- provide research data management services
- collaborate on manuscripts and serve as co-authors

CSTAT also offers workshops and consultations on a variety of statistical topics and software. Check them out for more details: https://cstat.msu.edu.

Graduate Teaching Assistant Teaching Learning Community (GTA TLC). The GTA TLC meets twice a month (Wednesdays from noon to 1pm) in the Fall and Spring semesters to present and discuss best practices in teaching and learning, new and emerging pedagogy and current research in teaching. Anyone interested in learning about best practices in teaching from GTAs in various instructional settings is welcome to join and contribute their knowledge and practices in the teaching space. The GTA TLC wants to empower and recognize the many teaching efforts and innovative practices GTAs have developed and address any challenges that arise. Please check the Graduate School Calendar to register: https://grad.msu.edu/calendar.

Office of the University Ombudsperson offers a confidential place to discuss both academic and nonacademic concerns including, administrative issues, workplace issues, or any concern that may relate to Michigan State University students. We also interpret and explain university policies and procedures. Here, you can speak freely because the Office of the University Ombudsperson offers an environment where you can talk with a confidential and impartial resource about a complaint, conflict or problem. We are not part of any formal University process. We do not take sides in disputes. We operate independently of the University. Contact us at any point in your academic journey and together we will define the problem, explore options, outline strategies, review policies, inform you about applicable resources, and manage expectations while upholding the values of respect, integrity, diversity and freedom from bias or harassment. While keeping strict confidentiality, the Office of the University Ombudsperson further provides University officials with general information about trends and emerging student needs to assist the University in proactively improving its policies and practices. Social and Community Engagement

Center for Community Engaged Learning. In partnership with campus and community, the Center for Community Engaged Learning advances community engaged learning at Michigan State University and prepares students for lifelong civic and social responsibility. You can find many opportunities for volunteering, community-engaged research, democratic engagement, philanthropy, advocacy, and more! https://communityengagedlearning.msu.edu.

Graduate Certification in Community Engagement. MSU’s Graduate Certification in Community Engagement is an initiative of University Outreach and Engagement and The Graduate School. The Certification is designed to help graduate and professional students develop systemic, respectful, and scholarly approaches to their community engaged work. With approval from their Guidance Committee.
chairperson and University Outreach and Engagement, students tailor their program of study to strengthen their scholarly and practical skills in community-engaged research and creative activities, community-engaged teaching and learning, community-engaged service and practice, and/or community-engaged commercialization activities. https://grad.msu.edu/community-engagement

Council of Graduate Students (COGS) is an authorized student government on campus representing our graduate/professional students at various levels across Michigan State University. Their mission is to improve and advance graduate education in order to ensure the vitality of intellectual discovery. COGS accomplishes its mission through advocacy, innovative research, and the development and dissemination of best practices. Supporting education is critical to achieving the highly skilled workforce needed for the U.S. to compete effectively in the 21st century global economy. Email: office@cogs.msu.edu. Website: https://cogs.msu.edu. The COGS website often has a list of social events and other ways to engage in community and scholarship together: https://cogs.msu.edu/upcoming-events/

The Gender and Sexuality Campus Center is dedicated to leading and collaborating on university-wide initiatives that prepare students to thrive in our diverse world, and enhancing the campus climate and support services for students marginalized by their sexuality or gender! So when asked who is the Center for, it’s for everyone! https://gscc.msu.edu/

The Alliances for Graduate Education and the Professoriate (AGEP) is a National Science Foundation program that supports recruitment, retention, and graduation of underrepresented U. S. minorities in doctoral programs of the natural and social sciences, mathematics, and engineering. Graduate students, post-docs and faculty who participate in building the AGEP Community at MSU will provide a key to changing the culture of U. S. colleges and universities to embrace building world-class STEM and SBE faculties who fully reflect the diversity in race, gender, culture and intellectual talent of the U.S. population. https://grad.msu.edu/agep.

Collegiate Recovery Community (CRC) is housed in the Health Promotion Department. MSU’s Collegiate Recovery Community (CRC) serves students in or seeking recovery from alcohol and other drug addiction. The mission is to provide a safe and supportive campus community in which students in recovery from addiction can achieve their academic, personal and professional goals. The CRC and its services are designed to empower students to thrive in the fullness of the college experience, free from alcohol and other drugs. https://healthpromotion.msu.edu/recovery/index.html.

Office for International Students and Scholars (OISS) hosts a virtual coffee hour every week. Check this page for updates about times and dates, which rotate to accommodate students calling in from different time zones: https://oiss.isp.msu.edu/about/feature/weekly-coffee-hour/.

Student Parent Resource Center. http://studentparents.msu.edu. The MSU Student Parent Resource Center offers a supportive environment to obtain information and resources for ALL students who are parents and their families on and off campus. Services offered by the SPRC:

- Advocacy for student families
- Academic and family support
- Guidance for communicating with faculty and advisors
- Financial assistance for child care, infant to age 12
- Support in researching quality child care
- Student Parents on a Mission (SPOM) peer organization
- Pre-finals child care
- Community Resource Guide

Occupational and Financial Well-Being

PhD Career Services can help at every state of planning for life after graduate school. If you are in need of one-on-one help in your career planning or professional development, it might be time to schedule an appointment. You can get help with writing resumes/CVs and cover letters, preparing for interviews, and learning tips for successful networking. Find directions for scheduling an appointment here: https://grad.msu.edu/phdcareers/advising

Professional Development Workshops and Resources. The Graduate School guides students and postdocs to the resources they need for planning and professional development. Our program offerings and resources provide the key skills that all graduate students need before completing their degree with foundational skills: https://grad.msu.edu/professional-development. You can also look at the Grad School calendar and filter the options by topic, professional development area, and audience: https://grad.msu.edu/calendar/. Professional development areas include career development, community engagement, leadership, mentoring, research, teaching and writing.
MSU WorkLife Office (https://worklife.msu.edu). The WorkLife Office accomplishes our mission by offering guidance and education in five areas:

1. Career Transitions: For faculty or staff, career transition concerns may include: tenure clock stoppage for parental leave; taking on a new role at MSU; advancing or changing careers; among others. The WorkLife Office offers consultation and connects you to seminars and workshops to assist in these matters.

2. Relocation & Community Connections: If you are new to Michigan State, the Greater Lansing area, Michigan or the United States, the WorkLife Office can help connect you to campus and community resources. Even if you aren’t new to the area, we have plenty of ways to help you locate and access the resources you need.

3. Family Care: Resources include, but are not limited to, consultation to determine the best care for you and your family’s needs; identifying emergency childcare; sharing best practices for elder care.

4. Workplace Assistance: We offer guidance for talking with supervisors about flexible work arrangements, recommendations for resolving conflict in the workplace, and identifying MSU policies which may apply to your workplace setting, among others.

5. Research: We provide access to cutting-edge research about best practices for work-life synergy and develop research specific to MSU’s community.

Financial Wellness. The career dimension of wellness is not only concerned with employment, but also with employment that provides personal satisfaction and fair and adequate financial remuneration. It can also be a challenge to feel financially well while still pursuing graduate education. Click here for a guide to Financial Wellness for graduate students: https://grad.msu.edu/sites/default/files/content/lifeandwellness/docs/Financial%20Wellness%20Final%20Draft%20Designed.pdf

Personal Finance Workshop. Dr. Emily Roberts is a Special Finance Educator specializing in working with early-career PhDs. She believes that graduate students and post-docs can improve their finances during their training and do not have to defer financial success until they start their “real jobs.” To that end, her presentations are specifically tailored to teach folks how to manage their cash flow and reach financial goals even on their small incomes. By working on your finances now, you will reduce your stress around money, increase your net worth, develop positive financial habits, and prepare to transition to your next position. This foundation will set you up for a lifetime of financial success.
